

BROKE UP A DANCE

Policemen Put a Stop to a Kent Street Can-Can.

OTHERS WILL BE CALLED DOWN

Efforts Will Be Made to Quiet the Neighborhoods Infested With Dance Hall Nuisances.

The police department has been keeping a record of the dance houses in the city that are frequented by disreputable characters and they will be broken up as rapidly as information can be obtained that will warrant arrests. There are several dance halls that are a disgrace to the neighborhoods in which they are located and the residents in their vicinity are greatly exercised over the revelries of drunken men and women. The police warfare against this class of dances was inaugurated last night when Patrolmen Love-ridge dispersed a crowd in the Cooper block, corner of Hastings and Kent streets and arrested Charles A. Bunker, one of the participants, and took him to the police station on a charge of disorderly conduct. The dance was given by a Mrs. Rose who rents the block. The building is owned by James Campbell who has been trying for some time past to eject her. He refuses to accept any rent from her, but she continues to live there. Mr. Campbell went with the officer last night and forthwith the dance continuing, and Summer, who was under the influence of liquor, replied to him with an oath and proceeded to call the dancers on the floor. The officers arrested him, and when he was searched a loaded revolver was found on his person. The dance was broken up and the prospects are that Mrs. Rose will be compelled to vacate the building within a day or two as Sergeant Webb will order her out.

HELD AN OPEN NIGHT

Hundreds Flock to the Y. M. C. A. Reunion and Social

TO ENJOY A FINE PROGRAM

Entertainment, Songs and Music Combined to Make a Pleasant Evening—Classes Formed.

Fully eight hundred ladies and gentlemen attended the Y. M. C. A. reunion and social held last evening in the parlors of the association. The office was decorated with potted plants and the entire building was thrown open to the inspection of members and prospective members. After a social hour, the visitors adjourned to association hall where they were charmingly entertained by a musical and literary entertainment under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary. Miss Minnie Benjamin very beautifully executed several piano solos. Miss Kate Thompson gave some love songs which the young men enjoyed and encored most heartily, and Mr. Will Cheney recited several of James Whitcomb Riley's poems. Mr. Cheney imitates the Homeric poet's style very cleverly and his readings last night were one of the pleasantest features of the evening's entertainment and were tirelessly enjoyed by the audience.

At the close of the entertainment Secretary Ward announced the following educational classes, which will be started within a fortnight. Mechanical drawing, free hand drawing and furniture design, electrical science, vocal music, sermon and a commercial course. C. H. Woods will teach the first of these classes. C. A. Whittemore the second and the third, which will be in the form of a series of lectures, will be delivered by Prof. C. W. Carnon, late of the high school. The teachers and time of meeting of the other classes will be announced through the newspapers as soon as arrangements for them are completed.

After the literary entertainment a class drill by the students' division of the physical department ended the exercises of the evening.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Board of Trade Takes Action on the Death of M. S. Crosby.

At a meeting of the board of trade held last night Fred A. Maynard, Orson A. Ball and Charles E. Sligh submitted the following resolutions on the death of the Hon. Moreau S. Crosby:

The board of trade of Grand Rapids, Michigan, having sustained a great loss in the death of the Hon. Moreau S. Crosby, and being desirous of entering on its records that which shall be a lasting tribute to his memory, does hereby resolve, that in the case of Mr. Crosby nothing can be said that is not good. His life among us for more than thirty years has indeed been an episode known and read of all men. It has demonstrated to us that it is possible for a man to be active in business, fervent in spirit and at the same time devoted to his God. We believe it to be true that he is the most successful who is the most faithful. Judged by this standard, no man could have been more successful. Mr. Crosby believed that it is the duty of every citizen to advance in every way in his power the welfare of the town in which he lives. To that end he consecrated his life, and all the agencies for good in our city will ever bear the impress of his career.

The church, our public schools, the Young Men's Christian association and our own board, of which he was for years an officer and director, have all received his warmest support. And not only our own city, but the welfare of the state, has been promoted by his service as legislator, lieutenant governor and as a member of its various penal, charitable and educational boards. And now that he has completed his life work, we, his business associates, do here and now declare that we, one and all, have been benefited by his life of devoted service, his transparent honesty, his absolute reliability and his bold advocacy of what ever he regarded as right. Having convictions, he always had the courage to stand by them. In private life as well, he was all that could be desired, a dutiful son, a devoted husband, an indulgent father, a steadfast friend. His life will ever be an inspiration to us all. We shall ever cherish his memory and always feel that when Mr. Crosby left us this world lost its richest treasure, an honest man.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, properly engrossed, be sent to the family of our late associate.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted.

"Could Not Decide a Case."

The jury which tried the case of Lananah & Sons vs. William Geisok retired at noon yesterday and at 9:30 last night were discharged, not having reached a verdict. The case grew out of Lananah seizing a shipment of six barrels of whisky worth about $1,200, on a writ of replevin. The goods were shipped in December, 1892 and in January, 1893, a few weeks later, Mr. Geisok gave several chattel mortgages, and Lananah & Son becoming frightened seized the goods. On the trial they claimed that the goods were secured by Mr. Geisok through fraud. It was claimed that he was given credit on Dun's report when he was rated at from $20,000 to $40,000. It was claimed that he misrepresented his standing to Dun's agency, thus obtaining credit.
